Did you know?

STOP! IT'S TOO TOXIC TO TRASH!

At your home or business, you likely use products that even at their end of life are still considered hazardous waste. We call this material Household Hazardous Waste (HHW), and there are many types found in our daily lives:

- CORROSIVES: acids, bases, batteries, drain or pile clog remover
- IGNITABLE: paints (dry or wet), petroleum-based products, polishes, gasoline
- REACTIVE: pool chemicals, hydrogen peroxide, iodine, perchlorates
- TOXICS: poisons, pesticides, gardening chemicals, ammonia, solvents
- MISCELLANEOUS: propane, helium, small oxygen tanks, smoke detectors, fluorescent lamps

Please DON'T DISPOSE of these items in your waste bins – it's dangerous for sanitation workers and harmful to the environment. You can safely divert HHW from the landfill by taking it to the following locations for proper disposal.

The Ukiah Transfer Station (707-234-6400, www.CandSwaste.com) accepts electronic waste, household and automotive batteries, motor oil and oil filters, antifreeze, fluorescent bulbs, and properly packaged, home generated sharps.

For other hazardous waste and disposal locations, please contact Mendo Recycles at (707) 468-9704 or at www.mendorecycle.org.

For more information on what to do with HHW or other items you no longer use, please visit UkiahRecycles.com.
